Ron joined Inland Companies as a Senior Project Manager in May 2005 and has been involved in the construction industry since 1984. In March of 2010, he was promoted to Vice President of the Multi-Family Division.

Ron's core responsibilities as a Vice President of the Multi-Family Division at Inland Companies include: pre-construction involvement, management of ground-up construction, tenant improvements, renovations, site development, building of new relationships and promotion of new business. Due to Ron's vast experience and knowledge in the construction industry, Ron also serves as a mentor for the other Inland Construction team members.

Ron's day-to-day activities include interaction with clients for pre-construction services, attending project job meetings, reviewing project schedules and reviewing project budgets and developing cost reports.

Ron began his career as a carpenter, and in 1993 put his tools aside and turned his focus to project management of wood frame "stick" construction and has more than 800 units of multi-family properties to his credits. Ron's diverse project portfolio includes senior apartments, RCAC's, CBRF's, and condominium construction, ranging from 4,000 square foot condominium projects to 100,000 square foot multi-story projects. In addition, Ron has managed numerous residential construction projects, commercial construction projects and has site development experience.
