Roy joined Inland Companies in 2007 as the manager of the electrical division of PROTECH.

With over 13 years of experience in the electrical industry, Roy began his career as an electrical apprentice in 1995, progressed to a journeyman electrician in 2000 and became a master electrician in 2001.

Roy's daily responsibilities at Inland include overseeing a department of 3 other licensed electricians, visiting various commercial property job sites to assess electrical needs, review electrical plans and blueprints, prepare all electrical bids and review all electrical work upon completion.

Prior to joining Inland, Roy worked as a job foreman and electrician for one of the largest non-union electrical companies in the State of Wisconsin.
