Inland Companies, Inc. is pleased to announce they have been honored with BOMA's Office Building of the Year (TOBY) Award for both the Wells Fargo Building, owned by Wells REIT II, and the Pabst Boiler House, owned by Pabst Boiler House LLC, in Milwaukee, WI. The Wells Fargo Building received the award for the Corporate Facility category and the Boiler House received the award for the Renovated Building category. The TOBY winners are recognized for excellence in office building management and operations in specific categories of building size or type. Judging was based on community impact, tenant/employee relations programs, energy management systems, accessibility for disabled people, emergency evacuation procedures, building personnel training programs and overall quality indicators.

The Building Owners & Managers Association (BOMA) is a trade association representing the commercial and office industries in the State of Wisconsin. The organization has a common Board of Directors, but separate national affiliations. BOMA was formed in the depression to help owners cope with the depressed real estate market, provide for peer interchange, and work together on governmental matters.

Inland Companies, Inc. is one of the largest full-service Commercial Real Estate Companies in Southeastern Wisconsin with offices in Milwaukee and Madison.
